

New Travel Pattern at the Killian Parkway Interchange

The interchange at the State Road 874/Don Shula Expressway and Killian Parkway has been redesigned to ease congestion. Drivers should follow the posted roadway signs that direct you through the new travel patterns.

Drivers traveling southbound must take the new three-lane SW 107th Avenue exit ramp to access westbound Killian Parkway. The next expressway exit is only to eastbound Killian Parkway.

A new bridge crossing over the expressway has been completed. Drivers traveling on westbound Killian Parkway must stay on the right lanes to access SW 107th Avenue or northbound SR 874. Construction activities in the area will continue until the project's final completion scheduled for fall 2011.

Dear Neighbor,

Capacity improvements on the Miami-Dade Expressway Authority's (MDX) State Road 874/Don Shula Expressway in Kendall are in the final phases of construction. As part of this construction, the Killian Parkway interchange was redesigned to accommodate more vehicles and to improve traffic flow on the surface roads in the surrounding community. On Saturday, July 30, construction crews will open a number of new lanes and movements in the intersection including:

- A new three-lane exit ramp that will take drivers from southbound Don Shula Expressway to both westbound Killian Parkway and northbound SW 107th Avenue. Previously, a one-lane ramp provided access only to northbound SW 107th Avenue.
- The existing second exit ramp from southbound Don Shula Expressway will now take drivers to eastbound Killian Parkway only.
- A new bridge crossing over the Don Shula Expressway has been completed to include two lanes that continue west on Killian Parkway and provide access to northbound SW 107th Avenue.

Construction activities in the area and on the Don Shula Expressway will continue until the project's final completion scheduled for fall 2011.

For more information about the new Killian Parkway interchange or construction activities, please contact the public information office at 786-552-0000 or email mdxconstructionpio@mdxway.com.
